To the Editors of the Boston Liberator

.Adams, Jefferson Co., N.Y.. Says he has been converted from the beliefs of the American Colonization Society to those of W. L. Garrison. Realizes that the Society lacks the funds to send any substantial number of slaves to Liberia. Says that in 1830, five hundred slaves were driven through Washington during a three day celebration of the triumph of liberty in France. Hopes that "an O'Connell will yet come forth and plead, on the floor of Congress, ... for the abolition of slavery, at least, in the District of Columbia ..." Predicts a slave insurrection, which can only be avoided by immediate emancipation.

[Bristol] Thanks him for his letter and constructive criticism. Discusses rhyme technique briefly. Explains that the story of Bianca is substantially true. Calls it prose "piece justificative" of "La Fille aux yeus d'Or," by Balzac. A.L.S. 8 pp. 4 1/4 x 7 in. Partially printed in More Books, June 1946.

Jan 20 Symonds, John Addington 1840-1893

To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] Congratulates him on the beauty of the new metre [quarta rime] which he has developed [in "Memorial Verses on the Death of Theophile Gautier."]. It seems to him to bear the same relation to terza rima as the double roses of Paestum do to the single rose on the coin of Rhodes. To one who knows the work of Gautier, the critical value of his poem is as great as its imaginative force.

To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] His allusion to an article on Erechtheus was to that printed in the Academy. Thinks the description of Chthonia's death as beautiful as any messenger's speech in Euripides. Hopes his recognition of the Aeshylean elements in play seem to be right. Is pleased that Swinburne liked The Greek Poets. Is about to print essays on "Fragments of the Tragic and Comic Poets."

Dec 27 To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] Thanks him for his letter and constructive criticism. Discusses rhyme technique briefly. Explains that the story of Bianca is substantially true. Calls it prose "piece justificative" of "La Fille aux yeux d'Or," by Balzac.

Jan 20 To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] Congratulates him on the beauty of the new metre [quarta rime] which he has developed [in "Memorial Verses on the Death of Theophile Gautier."]. It seems to him to bear the same relation to terza rima as the double roses of Paestum do to the single rose on the coin of Rhodes. To one who knows the work of Gautier, the critical value of his poem is as great as its imaginative force.

Jan 4 To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] His allusion to an article on Erechtheus was to that printed in the Academy. Thinks the description of Chthonia's death as beautiful as any messenger's speech in Euripides. Hopes his recognition of the Aeshylean elements in play seem to be right. Is pleased that Swinburne liked The Greek Poets. Is about to print essays on "Fragments of the Tragic and Comic Poets."

[New Bedford, Mass.] The little (New Bedford) Anti-Slavery society has lately been very busy preparing materials for a private sale. "We get along rather heavily," a few individuals being left to "bear the burden and obloquy as well as they may." Nevertheless, the writer has never had a shadow of a doubt about the truth of the cause. The writer tells of the surprise in her family at Angelina E. Grimké's marriage. Remarks on the mob in Philadelphia, "a place numbering so many consistent advocates of ultra peace principles." Comments on books. Referring to George Bancroft: "The Quakers do not like the way in w[illegible] he has introduced our principles and members in his h[illegible] ..." Comments on the course of lectures given by the poet Richard H. New Bedford, Mass. Gives a detailed account of the measures by which, through the efforts of New Bedford abolitionists, a colored slave of the Ludlams was taken away by the sheriff to be set free. The abolitionists have, in consequence, "had to encounter much reproach and obloquy." The owners of the "chattel personal" are determined if possible "to ruin Spear." Jan 20 To Algernon Charles Swinburne 1837-1909

[Bristol] Congratulates him on the beauty of the new metre [quarta rime] which he has developed [in "Memorial Verses on the Death of Theophile Gautier."]. It seems to him to bear the same relation to terza rima as the double roses of Paestum do to the single rose on the coin of Rhodes. To one who knows the work of Gautier, the critical value of his poem is as great as its imaginative force.

| To William Lloyd Garrison | No.4[illegible]

[New York] Thanks W.L.G. for the return of $100 which was not needed for the Liberator. Says that he is not receiving the Liberator regularly. Was glad to hear of the founding of the New England Anti-Slavery Society. The Nat Turner rebellion "has paralyzed our Philadelphia friends, and nothing ... can be done there now, towards organizing a National Society". No money can be raised for the negro college. The free negroes may be persecuted "to make them disposed to emigrate." Fears "the vengeance of Heaven" for the people's sinful conduct toward the Indians and the negroes.

To Henry Grafton Chapman

[New York] The writer states how the $260 received in a letter from the addressee have been appropriated,-$200 to the Boston Female Anti-Slavery Society, and $60 given to Ransom G. Williams for Mr. [Stephen H.] Gimber. The writer has been directed by the Executive Committee to credit the Mass. Society with $300 advanced to Mr. [Cyrus Pitt?] Grosvenor, Agent. The writer refers to a "ridiculous stir" made in Boston by the "indecorum of the colored people in leaving the Court Room abruptly," and expresses his contempt of the Bostonians. "We must hold on-advance-make no apologies..." Adds a report of a proposition made to Henry B[illegible]r Stanton in regard to the Executive Committee's respon[illegible]lity for refunding collections under certain conditions.

To William Lloyd Garrison No.70

«New York» A reply to W.L.G.'s letter dated Sept.13th. The writer does not approve of the Clerical Appeal, but criticises some of the material in the Liberator relating to it. Thinks that the Liberator devoted to much space to attacking its authors. Does not consider the Appeal a serious menace. The Liberator's attack indicated dissension among the Mass. Abolitionists. Disapproves of attacking any Abolitionist. Discusses "the remarks in the Philanthropist of 15 Sept." Approved of them in general. Warns of a rift between the Garrisonian Abolitionists and those who agree with the Clerical Appeal.

May, Samuel, Jr., 1810-1899; minister

To Richard Davis Webb

«Leicester, Mass.» The writer says the Government has resorted to direct taxation. Discusses taxation generally. Sends a newspaper clipping containing a letter by Professor Francis W. Newman which prophesied the movements of the Confederate armies. Describes the N.Y. Evening Post. Received photographs from "Sojourner Truth." Gives an account of Lee's invasion of Pennsylvania. Deplores the demobilization of certain Union troops. Condemns Moncure D. Conway's correspondence with James M. Mason, the Confederate Ambassador to England. Thinks that the English government will try to force a peace between the North and the South.

1677 Jan 18 Leverett, Sir John, 1616-1679; governor of Mass.

Deposition of John Winsland.

[Boston.] Testifies that while he was staying at John Hunkins's house at the Isle of Shoals, he was in an upstairs chamber scaling a stick; that he tossed the stick over the stairway when he was through with it, and did not know that the stick injured William Taylor. Had noticed Goodwife Sabin and Elizabeth Sabin applying salve to his eye. Roger Dane informed him of the hurt. A.D.S. 1p. 7 x 5 in.

Deposition written by John Leverett, and signed by him. It is not signed by Winsland.

To Kate Field

53 Boulevard Haussman, Paris. The writer congratulates Miss Field on The Telephone, which she edited. Heard that telephones were selling for £50 in London. Thinks her company could reduce the price, in which case the Greeks could buy some, except that political upheavals have much impoverished them. Recommends his brother-in-law as a possible agent for the company. Announces the birth of a son named Agamemnon. Sends a contribution to the Shakespeare Memorial fund. Wants to be nominated as the delegate to the Ethnographic section in the Universal section in Paris. Wants to be nominated U.S. consul in Athens or Piraeus. P.S. Says that the consulship has been abolished.

Notes the kindnesses rendered to him by the Dukes of Northumberland and Richmond, of Lord Romney and Mr.Marsh, in obtaining for him the sitting of the Prince of Wales. Relates how the Earl of Radnor helped him financially at the time he was robbed of such a large sum of money. 1831 Tenterden, Charles Abbott, 1st baron, 1762-1832; Chief-justice
Jan 10 of the King's Bench.

To Sir Samuel Egerton Brydges, Geneva, Switzerland.

[Russell Square, London.] Does not wholly agree with him in attributing to the return of currency the depreciation of produce and manufacture. Speculates as to the views of the new ministry. O'Connell is defying the government in Ireland. Believes him to be a man of much talent. Comments on the attitude which the newspapers take, and the influence which they have on thought. The new term commences tomorrow: was not in favor of the change. Has two new judges, Taunton and Patteron (?). Alderon is in the Common Pleas. Finds two classes of petitions, one fr[illegible] an humanitarian motive, another springing from political mo[illegible]. Relates the petition started by the Political Union [illegible]rmingham, and comments on the Trade Union.

Mar 12 Asks him to comment on the Latin verse he forwarded. A.L. 7p
